Information from HPs overnight:

John Stover, 1101 Westwood St. #207, Bismarck, driving ND 454AWL, stopped at site 118 around 2230 hrs on 10/16 and visited with the troops there. He advised the following:

- He has a friend/neighbor, Jerry Schafer (sp?) that lives on Hwy. 6 near the SD/ND border.

- Jerry has heard from a reliable source that something big is planned for Monday (time, location, other details unknown)

- Jerry also spoke of missing activists, people not being allowed to leave the camps and that are missing to family people possibly being held against their will

- Phone number for John is 605-390-7560

- John also said the original members of the protest (local native americans) are tired of the activists and are ready to be done with the protesting.

Good morning relatives!

I received a couple emails from one of our patrol Sergeants over the weekend:

Yesterday morning I was in a conversation with Josh Selle about the reckless driving/pursuit incident that took place on Saturday where he was run off the road. Selle had said that they know the driver as, "Cuny Dog (didn't clarify spelling)" and that he is the head of Red Warrior Camp security. Selle said that the actual name of the suspect was unknown. I don't know if his real name was attached to the affidavit.

If it hasn't already been discovered I thought this info may be helpful. Cuny Dog is Don Cuny. He is from Manderson-White Horse Creek Reservation in SD. It appears he is original AIM from 1973. Some posts reference that he was an original "AIMSTER". In some Facebook pics he is tagged in he is seen with AIM propaganda. I also found one that appears to be AIM related in which a younger male standing with him is holding an AR. In some posts he states that Wounded Knee will happen again. He has "Free Peltier" stickers in some of his posts.

I'm sure you have already found this info, but Facebook "Aim Peji Wahuta". It sheds a lot of light on the AIM camp at the protest. It appears their President is there. His last name is Cheyenne. Also there in pictures is Don "Cuny Dog" Cuny, Dennis Banks, and Clyde Bellecourt. I believe these are original AIM members. Not sure how prominent they were in the Wounded Knee siege. Orvin Flying Horse is also there but not sure if he is original. Flying Horse's Facebook indicates he may be pro-violence.
